

DETROIT JEWISH NEWS

JN

Thursday, February 14, 2008

Danny Raskin
Senior Columnist

POTPOURRI ...

GIMMICKS CERTAINLY aren't needed to sell its food, but Bacco Saletta, the private dining facility at Bacco Ristorante, Northwestern, Southfield, now has something that might tell about it anyway ... It's a Mercedes-Benz as its kitchen on wheels, sort of a class indicator of Bacco's excellent cuisine ... There are plenty of other great automotive names, but this happens to be a 20-foot black luxury limo van with its own work tables, refrigeration, etc. ... Even wine is kept in good shape ... No catering menu ... folks can order anything they want for their exclusive house party or large corporate event ... Anything from smaller intimate meals to shindigs up to 500 people.

Danny's e-mail address is dannyraskin@sbcglobal.net.